Death on the Rail.

SEVERAL PERSONS KILLED AND WOUNDED. A Cleveland special says: The express train on the Cleveland and Columbus road, which left here Friday morning, was de-railed at 11 o'clock one mile north of Gallon. The locomotive remained on the track, but the baggage- and the expresstrack, but the baggage- and the expresscars, smoking-car, two coaches, and a parlor-car were ditched. The train was running cighteen miles per hour. No broken rail was found. The track, which was of new steel rails and straight, is supposed to have slipped in consequence of the late rains. Robert Oudell, draughtsman in the C. C., C. and I. road-master's office at Cleveland; Rev. D. I. Fouts, of Shelby, and another, unidentified, were killed.
Conductor Daykin was badly cut in the bead and injured in the side. E. E. Poppleton, the attorney of the railway company, was injured about the head and arms, but not seriously. A news ngent named Hammer had an arm broken.

A Pittsburgh telegram says: A wheel

A Pittsburgh telegram says: A wheel on the front car of the Foxburg express, on the Pittsburgh and Western railroad, broke at 5 o'clock Friday evening, when the train was nearing Ætna station, causing the smoker and locomotive to jump the track, the latter turning over. The engineer, J. C. Cooper, and the fireman, Edward Brady, of this city, were buried under the débris, and before they could be extricated were so badly scalded by escaping steam that they will die. Passen-gers were considerably shaken up and bruised, but were not seriously hurt.

Brief News Items.

Five officers of the Sixteenth Grenadiers, belonging to the Russian army of the Cau-casus, have been dismissed from the service

ing attitude upon the railroad. The engi-neer of the fast express saw the man just in time to avoid running over him. The train was brought to a stop and Richards re-moved from the track.
